

STATE OF TENNESSEE

PROCLAMATION

BY THE GOVERNOR

WHEREAS, Autism Spectrum Disorder is a developmental disability that can significantly impair an individual's ability to learn healthy interactive behaviors and understand verbal and nonverbal reciprocal communication; and

WHEREAS, Autism Spectrum Disorders affect young people and adults of every background, and millions of American families know the weight of their impact; and

WHEREAS, Autism Spectrum Disorders affect 1 in 88 children, while more than 3 million individuals in the United States are affected; and

WHEREAS, although a cure has not been found, persons with Autism can be helped to reach their greatest potential with accurate, early diagnosis and appropriate education; and

WHEREAS, great strides have been made in our understanding of the autism spectrum, and today, children and adults with ASDs are leading independent and productive lives, though barriers still remain for these individuals and their families; and

WHEREAS, it is important to ensure persons living with ASDs have the opportunity to pursue their full measure of happiness and achieve their greatest potential;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Bill Lee, Governor of the State of Tennessee, do hereby proclaim April 1, 2022, as

Autism Awareness Day

in Tennessee and encourage all citizens to join me in this worthy observance.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the official seal of the State of Tennessee to be affixed at Nashville on this first day of April, 2022.

A handwritten signature in blue ink that reads "Bill Lee".

Governor

A handwritten signature in blue ink that reads "Jill Hargett".

Secretary of State

