

STATE OF TENNESSEE

PROCLAMATION

BY THE GOVERNOR

WHEREAS, the foundation of Tennessee agriculture - farm production - occurs on nearly 78,000 farms representing 10.9 million acres of farmland in the state; and

WHEREAS, the American farmer, a national symbol of strength and strong moral fiber, has displayed ingenuity in times of prosperity and perseverance in the face of hardships while supplying our state, nation and the world, year in and year out, with an abundance of high quality agricultural goods and products; and

WHEREAS, Tennessee's farm families are stewards of the land contributing to the health, beauty, productivity and quality of our state's water, soil and forest resources for the benefit of all Tennesseans; and

WHEREAS, our state's secondary agricultural education program and our agricultural institutions of higher learning are responsible for developing highly trained and skilled young men and women entering careers in agricultural production, processing, sales and other services; and

WHEREAS, our agricultural research institutions and extension programs contribute significantly to the quality of life for all Tennesseans through the advancement of the science and art of agriculture in the areas of soil and water conservation, biotechnology, food safety, and farm and forest productivity; and

WHEREAS, the Tennessee Department of Agriculture's mission is to serve the people of Tennessee by promoting wise usage of our agricultural and forest resources, developing rural economic opportunities, and ensuring safe and dependable food and fiber; and

WHEREAS, agriculture is the core of our state's health, recreation and economy, generating more than $3 billion in farm income and nearly $1 billion in agricultural exports annually; and

WHEREAS, Ag Day on the Hill will be observed by the Tennessee General Assembly and House Agriculture Committee March 20, 2012, to celebrate the important contributions of agriculture and forestry to our state; and

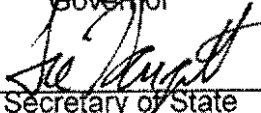

WHEREAS, 2012 marks the 39th anniversary of National Agriculture Day observances, an effort to raise awareness of the positive contribution agriculture makes in providing the necessary food, fuel and fiber of everyday life;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Bill Haslam, Governor of the State of Tennessee, do hereby proclaim March 20, 2012, as in Tennessee and encourage all citizens to join me in this worthy observance.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the official seal of the State of Tennessee to be affixed at Nashville on this 15th day of March, 2012.
